LOCAL NEWS.

Monday next, June 3d, is the 64th anniversary of the birth of His Majesty King George the Fifth; and a Bank holiday.

Mrs. J. E. Meehan, who was visiting last week with Mrs. Sauder at the United Manse, has gone to Quick, B. C., to join her husband, who is manager of a general store at that point.

The Stony Plain burgesses will note that the bylaw authorizing the sale of the town's Pole line and transfer of the Lighting Franchise to the Calgary Power Co. is printed on page 5 of this issue.

Among those who donated to Holborn Picnic whose names did not appear on the program are: J. F. Clarke, L. Zilliox, Enders & Baron, Hy Enders.

Highway Regulations to Be Enforced.

With every spring come complaints as to speeding and other road traffic infringements within the boundaries of the town. A few fines usually stops this in most places. So watch your steps and observe a few simple traffic regulations. Fifteen miles per hour is plenty fast enough in town. Remember pedestrians and teams have as much right to the road as you have. Park at an angle to the kerb and on the right side of the road. Go to the street intersection to turn. Give the other man his share of the road and observe the golden rule in your driving. If everyone followed a few easily comprehended regulations we would have safe and orderly traffic—Vermillion Standard.

Death of Mr Fred Willie

The late Mr. Frederick Willie, whose funeral took place 21st inst. was born in Germany in 1850. At 2 years of age he came with his parents to Waterloo Co., Ont. He came to Alberta in 1899. In 1925 Mr. and Mrs. Willie celebrated their golden wedding, which was a very popular event. The late Mr. Willie was an adherent of the Baptist church, but was far from bigoted in regard to church attendance and support.

There remain to mourn the loss of a fond husband and father, Mrs. Willie, Mr. John Willie of Stony Plain; Mrs. Carter; Mrs. Sellar of Kitchener, Ont.; Mrs. Musselmen of Heatherdown; Ed. Willie, of Kamloops, B.C.; Mrs. Bonn of Elmira; Mrs. Munro, Calgary.

The late Mr. Willie was of the best pioneer type, industrious, thrifty and rugged, yet of a most kindly heart, and always ready to lend a kindly hand to anyone.

Edmonton Beach.

A record number of cars and visitors, for so early in the season, were at this favorite beach on the holiday, where boating, fishing and dancing were indulged in. A very interesting baseball game was under way when the rain storm came. Quite a number came from the City via the C. N. Ry., the new station at this point proving a great convenience. Proprietor Barrie is preparing for a big day on Monday next, the King's Birthday.

Great Soldier's Warning Against War

One of the gravest errors some pacifists make, says Toronto Saturday Night, is to suppose that all soldiers of military ability favor war. This is far from being true and the fact is illustrated by the great British general, Field Marshal Sir William Robertson, who has on many occasions raised his voice against war as an institution for the settlement of international disputes.

Quite recently he has spoken again, pointing out that the desire to avoid another war is common to most countries. It would be strange if it were not so, he says, inasmuch as the last war cost the world ten million lives or double the number lost in all wars of the preceding 120 years put together. It also cost not less than $350,000,000,000, a sum that the human mind is hardly competent to conceive, to say nothing of an incalculable total of distress, sorrow and injury. Its failure as a solution of international dispute is demonstrable from the fact that it left behind grievances and resentments that can not be eradicated within the lifetime of most adults now living.

Yet though war is condemned by the intelligent men of all the nations who twenty years ago thought of it lightly as an inevitable future development, not devoid of possible advantages, preparations go on much as they did prior to 1914. Sir William Robertson is genuinely alarmed over the tendency to increasing competition in armaments. All the great powers, with (we are glad to note), the exception of Great Britain, are today spending more money on armed forces than they spent five years ago. Even with a reduced scale of expenditure Great Britain is practically compelled to spend $1,275,000,000, irrespective of the contributions of India and other parts of the Empire, from the sheer necessity of fulfilling her military responsibilities in various parts of the world and protecting sea communications. France and Italy today have approximately as many men under arms as in 1914. Germany is complaining of her defenceless position, and if armaments are piled up by her neighbors, must some day be given permission to arm also. Many smaller nations of Europe are on a military footing and maintaining a threatening attitude toward each other. The United States feels that future security demands a vast additional naval expenditure.

What does all this madness portend? Peace is a game which all must play if it is to be maintained. Let us hope that the craze for armament falls of its own weight before the nations get at each other's throats again. The only vestige of a silver lining lies in the fact that machinery for the isolation and prevention of wars now exists, a factor never previously known in the world's history; but it is plain that the miracle which will convert the human mass from madness to sanity cannot be performed with a single gesture.

Every Day Circus Day

Capital Of Southern Morocco Never Lacks Entertainment

Every day is circus day in Marrakech, the capital of Southern Morocco, in which life goes on much as it did in the days of the Arabian Nights, according to a writer in the "Living Age." The hard-packed, reddish soil is an arena for all the fakirs and entertainers of North Africa, for the city still is the guardian of the old caravan routes from the desert's rim to the sea.

Acrobats, make' charmers, story tellers, musicians, and the rest; daily and nightly entertain travellers who are armed with wicked knives, and display every skin shade from the blondest of the Russian to the ebony of the pure negro.

To Check "FLU," Grippe

Fights the Germs in the Throat Before They Invade Other Parts of the Body.

EFFECTIVE PREVENTIVE MEASURES EXPLAINED

Simple precautions taken now will enable you to fight dangerous "flu" which is sweeping rapidly through the whole country. The germs of influenza gain access to the body through the mouth and throat. Keep the throat healthy and you go a long way towards stopping the trouble. An effective means of prevention is to gargle the throat three or four times daily with Nerville's. Half a teaspoonful of Nerville's in water makes a most efficient gargle. The germ-killing properties of Nerville's quickly destroy any bacteria in the mouth or throat. If the chest is sore, if the throat is hoarse, if you have a cough—be sure, to rub the neck and chest with Nerville's. Every drop of it will rub in, and out will come the congestion.

Of course it is absolutely necessary to house-clean the system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills which stimulate the eliminating organs, and rid the system of disease-breeding wastes. This combination treatment of Nerville's and Dr. Hamilton's Pills will give prompt and entirely satisfactory results.

What Britain Has Done

Has Led the World in Disarmament Says Stanley Baldwin

"Years ago seamen sailed from Plymouth to discover a new world. We are going to rediscover a new moral world, which is a very much harder task," said Premier Stanley Baldwin, speaking at Plymouth, during his campaign tour of western England.

"We have led the way to disarmament," the premier said. "The fleet today is half the size it was in 1913. That is practical disarmament and no nation in the world can come any where near that, yet there are Englishmen who say we are lagging behind."

"My hope is that the new government will be able to conclude an agreement with the United States which will lift the whole problem of disarmament to a new plane of action and not talk."

New Appointment

The appointment is announced by W. D. Robertson, director of the Canadian National Railways, of E. A. Weir, hitherto European publicity agent of the Canadian National system at London, England, to be director of radio for the system, with headquarters at Montreal, succeeding the late A. R. McEwan.

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF EVERY MOTHER

The child in the home is a never-failing source of joy, but, at the same time, a never-failing responsibility to the fond mother. It not infrequently happens that minor ailments of the child distress and puzzle her. She does not know just what to do, yet feels them not serious enough to warrant calling in the doctor. At just such times as these it is found that Baby's Own Tablets are the mothers greatest help and friend.

Most childhood ailments arise in the digestive tract—the bowels become clogged and the stomach sour. Baby's Own Tablets are a never-failing relief for this condition. They break up the clog, pass through their action on the stomach and bowels they banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fever; allay the pain accompanying the cutting of teeth and promote health-giving sleep. Concerning them Mrs. W. Jennings Mackay, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and think so highly of them that I would not be without them. Please send me your little booklet on the care of children." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mail Service For North

Areas In Northern Manitoba To Be Brought Within Closer Touch Of Outside World

Dwellers in the remote areas of Northern Manitoba will be brought into closer touch with the "outside" world this summer through arrangements made by the Post Office Department, adding settlements at Oxford, Gods and Island Lake to the growing chain of northern mail points of call. Mail will be delivered once a week with Norway House, at the northern end of Lake Winnipeg, as the distributing centre.

Miller's Worm Powders are the medicine for children who are found suffering from the ravages of worms. They immediately alter the stomachic conditions under which the worms subsist and drive them from the system, and, at the same time, they are tonics in their effect upon the digestive organs, restoring them to healthful operation and ensuring immunity from further disorders from such a cause.

New De Luxe Train Equipment

Many Western Towns Honored By Landing Applause To Luxurious Sleeping Cars

With a desire to honour some of the fast growing communities of Western Canada, the Canadian Pacific Railway is naming its new de-luxe train equipment in honor of these communities. Twenty-nine new sleepers of the latest type are thus called, and will be known in railway circles as the "29" series. They include eight sections, two compartments and one drawing-room, and the berth sections are equipped with semi-permanent partitions to insure greater privacy to passengers.

The new sleepers will make a great appeal to ladies, for they have a huge dressing room with plenty of lounge accommodation as well as up-to-date toilet facilities. Brown is the dominant colour scheme, carried out in tapestry upholstery, berth curtains and carpets. All the latest safety devices are embodied in them, and marvellous ventilation is achieved through a forced process through the roof.

The points honoured in this manner by the Canadian Pacific are: Ravensburg, Revelstoke, Red Deer, Ruby Creek, Rusk, Rutherglen, Regina, Renovo, Roseberry, Rosser, Rosemont, Riverton, Roblinville, Rathwell, Rocanville, Rapid City, Rosefield, Rosemary, Redcliff, Raymond, Romford, Reston, Regent, Renfrew, Redvers, Richmond, Rossport, Rennie, Rossland.

This new series will be moved on that train over Western Canadian Pacific lines, as part of a million dollar equipment which makes up each No. 7 and 8.

New Trade Commissioner

Harvest Kelp From Sea Floor

Weed Is Being Tested For Value As Cattle Fodder

Seaweed is now believed to be an extremely valuable food for cattle and other live stock, and now a Los Angeles inventor comes forward with a machine for gathering it from the bottom of the sea. His machine, which was recently demonstrated in California, is mounted on a scow. An endless belt of spiked crosspieces runs from the surface of the scow to the harbor bottom, where blades tear off the kelp. The weeds catch upon the moving crosspieces and are raised to the scow, where they are piled up like hay to dry.

The kelp is then ground and fed to farm animals with their hay and grain. It may also be used as a fertilizer, and from it can be extracted large quantities of iodine and potash. Tests are now being made to determine its relative value as cattle fodder.

Cuts and Bruises Disappear.—When suffering from cuts, scratches, bruises, sprains, sore throat or chest and any similar ailment, use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Its healing power is well-known in every section of the community. A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil should be in every medicine chest ready for the emergencies that may always be anticipated.

Commercial Fertilizers Must Be Produced In Increasing Amount To Maintain Present Crop Yield

The astonishing computation is made that if the farmers of Canada were to entirely replace by chemical fertilizers the amount of plant food annually used it would entail a yearly expenditure of $385,000,000. This figure, contained in a new report on "The Commercial Fertilizer Industry in Canada" prepared by the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior, at Ottawa, is not intended to create alarm but is merely informative. As a matter of fact the computation embraces the cultivated area of the Prairie Provinces where the soils are naturally very rich, and there is a division of opinion on the present need of fertilizers there. Without considering the three prairie provinces the fertilizer bill would nevertheless be very considerable amounting to over $141,000,000.

The fact is stressed that such computations are theoretical and of no practical value except as pointing to the immense field open in time for the fertilizer industry in Canada. The aim of the report is stated to be to put before the Canadian public the latest view of experts in world economics that commercial fertilizers must be produced in ever increasing amount to maintain present yield and sustain a multiplying population and to show the amount of commercial fertilizer which Canada is using, might use, and may contribute to the world demand.

Contrasting with the value of the commercial fertilizer theoretically necessary to replace depletion of the soil is the actual figure of $2,994,435 expended in Canada for purchased fertilizers in 1927. Though depletion of the soil is going on year after year the annual consumption of fertilizer in Canada is not increasing rapidly as is shown by the expenditure of $4,408,336 in 1918. It is held that there is a boundless field in Canada for the manufacture of commercial fertilizers but that to reach the full benefit of the growing market awaiting the industry the Canadian demand must be strengthened by education of the farmer and in the rural schools, by practical demonstration of the value of fertilizers. Manufacturers, producers, and distributors need co-operation and the consolidation that other industries are finding necessary with a view to greater efficiency, uniform marketing and economy in production.

An interesting section of the 60-page mimeographed memorandum gives figures to show how the present low rate of yield of the larger crops compared with that in other countries might be profitably increased by the use of commercial fertilizer as advised by the Department of Agriculture. Previous tariff and Dominion Acts regulating sale and manufacture of fertilizers are dealt with and a map indicates the location and names of producers of commercial fertilizers, and fertilizer materials, whether wholly or partly manufactured in Canada. Copies of the publication may be obtained free of charge from the director, Natural Resources Intelligence Service, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Real Wealth At Home

Canadian People Will Not Find Better Opportunities Elsewhere

In January, there were 4,164 persons who came to Canada as immigrants, and 4,427 persons left the country as emigrants.

Assuming that persons move from one country to another to improve their positions in life, one is reminded of an utterance of an English writer, William McFee. In his recently published life of Frobenius, Mr. McFee remarks that while the Elizabethan adventurers were seeking gold abroad, and while Frobenius was taking back to England useless rock from Arctic islands, the real wealth of Britain was in the coal about one mile below the estate which Sir Martin was able to purchase in his later years.

Canada is a real land of opportunity. But unfortunately some of her people continue to think that opportunities are better in other lands.

Making the Farm Popular

Learning Scientific Methods Proves Fascinating To Students

Fascinating views as to the future of Canadian agriculture should have been dispelled from the mind of anyone who attended the winding-up dinner given to the pupils of the short courses which have been held. The enthusiasm that was evident among all the students proved that education in scientific methods of farming can be as fascinating as any other type of learning, when it is carried out under teachers who love their work and by boys and girls who are in a receptive mood. It is not hard to realize that the practical teaching which they receive at these courses is a good deal more attractive to the active minds of the young folks than is the laborious memorizing of "ano, amas, amat," or the struggle with a recalcitrant comic (not comic) section.

Waging War Against Gophers

Bounty Offered By Alberta Department Of Agriculture

Cash prizes ranging from $1 to $200 will be paid by the Alberta Department of Agriculture for gopher tails and feet and eggs of crows and magpies taken in Alberta on or before November 1. A special feature has been added to the bounties this year, also, for gophers and crows and magpies taken early in the season, and on or before June 30. Feet of crows or magpies will be credited with five points each; eggs of crows or magpies will be credited with five points each and tails of gophers will be credited with three points each prior to this date.

Oil From Bituminous Sand

Alberta Government Will Undertake A New Experiment

The Alberta Government intends to separate oil from a quantity of bituminous sand and to turn over to commercial institutions the oil produced in order that tests may be made, also to test the oil extracted in road construction projects. There are also surveys planned under Dr. Wyatt, a water survey in charge of Dr. Rutherford and a Pre-Cambrian survey with Dr. Cameron in charge.

It takes 1,500 tons to hold an automobile together, but it only takes one to spread it all over the landscape.

Saskatchewan Wheat Pool Conducting a Survey Of Wheat Grown In Province

Depends On The People

Churches In Russia Closed Only When Majority Favors Change

Five hundred and thirty-two places of public worship were closed in the soviet union in 1928. They were converted into clubs, public schools, boarding houses, libraries and reading rooms, ambulances and hospitals, cultural centres, or museums.

Two hundred and fifty-three more places are marked for similar conversion this year, but there will be plenty left for religious purposes. A recent survey showed that there were some 50,000 churches in all of Russia.

The places of worship are closed to religious purposes only when a majority of the local population favors the change. A vote is taken if the initiative comes from local authorities. The 1928 list included 354 orthodox churches and 38 monasteries, 39 synagogues, 38 mosques, and 43 buildings belonging to various sects.

Leaning Tower Dispute Still Rages

Old Discussion Comes Up Again Regarding The Tower Of Pisa

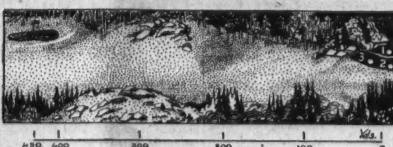

"Why does it lean?"—that old, old question reverberating around the tower at Pisa—is again the subject of violent debate in Italy, says the Italy-American Society. There used to be two schools of opinion: One held that the tower was intended to lean from the beginning—a quaint conceit of the architect's; the other maintained that a subsidence of earth inadvertently caused the tilt. A third school is now busy converting the other two. Here is what really happened. The original architect intended it to be straight. When partially built it began to lean. The builders then offset the leaning by continuing the construction at an angle to balance. All agree, however, that Pisa's tower is strikingly beautiful and safe.

When bridge work is mentioned now you have to wait and see if it's teeth, cards, or viaducts.

A HARD PAR 4

No. 8, Tokara's Cut—430 yards, Par 4.

Many hopes for a fine score have been wrecked by hole No. 8 of the Jasper Park Lodge Golf Course, Jasper National Park, Alberta, over which the Canadian amateur championship of the R.C.G.A. will be played from August 19th to 24th this summer. It is a dog-leg with a high knoll to be negotiated before the second shot can be placed on a sloping green that is lightning fast and guarded by a deep grass covered ditch. The contour of this green is such that an error of a fraction of an inch in putting means disaster.

Co-incident with the Canadian Amateur, the Western Canada Amateur will be played over the Jasper Park Lodge Course, and this will provide plenty of competition for those whose high handicaps automatically keep them out of the Dominion event.

The upper photograph shows the fairway just below the elevated tee. Below is a sketch to scale showing the hole in detail. Play in the tournament will take place from No. 3 tee.

The Saskatchewan Wheat Pool is conducting a survey of the varieties of wheat grown in this province. This work has been undertaken in conjunction with the provincial cereal committee, which was constituted in the spring of 1925 at the request of the pool, to bring about the desired uniformity of recommendations by agricultural authorities.

A questionnaire was sent out to 6,000 members of wheat pool committees. Approximately 2,500 replies have been received. Among the questions asked were the following: "What variety of wheat do you grow? Why that variety? What other varieties are grown in your district? Why are they grown? What variety is showing the most rapid increase?"

The replies are now being tabulated. The wheat pool has had the co-operation of the university, the provincial department of agriculture and the Dominion experimental farms.

Another piece of work has been undertaken by the Manitoba and Saskatchewan pools in co-operation with the Western Canadian Society of Agronomy in determining the extent of admixture of varieties and where such mixing takes place.

"Simultaneously" this year, in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, under the direction of the interprovincial committee of the Western Canadian Society of Agronomy, the pools have collected samples of wheat; (1) as sown by farmers, (2) as delivered by farmers to country elevators, (3) as delivered by railroads at terminal elevators, (4) as loaded into lake vessels by terminal elevators, and (5) as delivered by ocean vessels to British markets.

The samples thus collected are being grown by the experimental institutions in the provinces along with pure samples of the wheat varieties grown to any considerable extent in western Canada. Milling and baking tests will be made from these pure samples and compared with similar tests made from typical mixtures of varieties as found in the various classes of wheat grown on experimental farms from the samples collected.

It is hoped by this work to arrive at an answer to the question as to who is responsible for the mixture of varieties which takes place between pure seed and the old country miller, and in what manner such mixture affects the quality of the flour.

Vancouver Airplane Factory

New Concern Will Commence Operations At Coast City

Establishment of Vancouver's first aeroplane factory will be undertaken at once following the merger of Hoffer-Beeching Shipyard Limited with the Boeing Aeroplane Company of Seattle. It is announced by Henry Hoffer, President of the British Columbia concern. The new company will be known as Boeing Aircraft, Limited, of Canada. It will be a Canadian concern, using Canadian labor and material, the engines being manufactured in Montreal.

Need Packing Plant For Saskatchewan

The Saskatchewan Board of Trade is moving to develop the livestock industry in the region to the point of being able to support a packing plant. Commissioner J. H. Holmes recently pointed to the large increase in stock shipments from the city as significant of the growing need and necessity for a packing plant.

A Munificent Gift

Mr. W. H. Askew, Of Scotland, Donates Large Sum To Aid British Colonization In Canada

The Department of Colonization and Development of the Canadian Pacific Railway announces a munificent gift on the part of Mr. W. H. Askew, of Leith, Scotland, to the cause of British colonization in Canada. Mr. Askew who is a gentleman of means and well known in Scotland for his broad public spirit, has provided ten thousand dollars to enable suitable families to be brought to the border regions of England and Scotland to emigrate to Canada and engage in agricultural work.

Forty of these families are now on their way from Great Britain, and their departure has received wide publicity in the British press on account of the original circumstances under which these families are being moved.

The fact that Mr. Askew has provided ten thousand dollars makes possible, under the provisions of the Empire Settlement Act, an advance of a further ten thousand dollars for the forwarding of suitable British families to Canada. The Act in question authorizes the Secretary of State to co-operate with private organizations in formulating and carrying out schemes for affording joint assistance to suitable persons in Great Britain, who intend to settle in any of the Overseas Dominions. It is quite possible, therefore, that as a result of Mr. Askew's decision to assist prospective British colonists in the manner mentioned, three hundred families may be enabled to come forward to Canada. The number depends on the number of families advanced to each particular family.

At Mr. Askew's request the Department of Colonization and Development, Canadian Pacific Railway, has entered into an agreement with the Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs, for the recruiting, placement in agricultural occupation and all general administrative work connected with the scheme.

The families which will arrive during the next week will be at once distributed on arrival in Canada in placement which has already been assigned; twenty-five families having been allocated to the Canadian Colonization Association, subsidiary of the Department of Colonization and Development; others will occupy new cottages erected by the Colonization Association branch of the Canadian Pacific, and the remainder on farms prepared by the Canadian Pacific under the agreement made last fall with the Overseas Settlement Committee.

Asked for his personal comment on this new scheme Colonel J. S. Dennis, C.M.G., Chief Commissioner of Colonization and Development, said: "I have no hesitation, whatever, in saying that Mr. Askew's magnificent action is a strong reminder that the whole matter of the movement of British colonists to Canada calls for special efforts on the part of all organizations and individuals who are in a position to speed up the important task in question. As is well known we have always concentrated our efforts on the movement of the largest possible number of British settlers to Canada, spending large sums in that connection, but due to conditions which have existed in the last few years and the administrative difficulties, which seem to arise, now and again under the apparently necessary numerous regulations which must be observed, results have been disappointing. The Askew scheme, however, as it is sure to be widely known in the future, marks a step forward in the progress of British colonization in Canada, and we are greatly pleased, of course, that Mr. Askew should have seen fit to ask us to join in this proposal, which is now eliciting much commendation in Great Britain, and will continue to reflect the greatest credit and satisfaction to its sponsor."

The Board Of Health Strolling along the quays of New York harbor, an Irishman came across a wooden barricade placed around the enclosure where emigrants suspected of suffering from contagious diseases are isolated.

"What's this boarding for?" he enquired of a bystander. "Oh," was the reply "that's to keep out fever and things like that, you know."

"Indeed," said Pat, "olive often heard of the board of health, but jabbers, it's the first time I've seen it!"

Record Of Earthquakes On the average over 500 earthquakes a year, or roughly one a day, are registered on the seismographs at the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa. The majority of these, however, do not involve any serious disturbance anywhere, and comparatively few originate in Canada.

Explanations and Comments

The Princes Fear the Influence of Jeremiah and Seek His Death, verse 1.—Jeremiah was held a prisoner in the guard-house at Jerusalem during its siege by the Babylonians. He could still address those around him, and he prophesied the fall of the city and advised surrender. The effect of his words was to weaken the courage and purpose of the fighting power of the people. The princes denounced him to the king as one whose words weakened the defense of the city. "Let this man be put to death," they urged, "for he seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt."

So, then, am I become your enemy by telling you the truth?"

Jeremiah Is Cast Into a Dungeon, verse 2.—"Cast you into the stocks," said the weak king, and with this gesture of helplessness acknowledged that he could not withstand him; they could do with Jeremiah as they would. "He was afraid of Jeremiah, afraid of his enemies, afraid even to be himself."—Emily Huntley.—"Zedekiah miserably vacillated between listening to the prophet's counsels of surrender and the truculent noble's advice to resist to the last gasp. He was too weak men, he was afraid to do right, and fancied that he was compelled by the force of circumstances to do wrong. So he drifted and drifted, and at last was smashed to fragments on the rocks, all men are so, if they do not keep a steady eye on the compass. The winds of adversity have had masters."—Alexander MacLaren.

Four Hundred Years Ago

Luther's Catechism Is Still Being Used In Lutheran Schools

While text books change often and few studies today are a decade old, one yet in use can celebrate its four hundredth anniversary with the Lutheran World Congress, June 25 to July 31. "Luther's Catechism" was written four hundred years ago, and still is used in Lutheran schools. The Lutheran church is the largest Protestant church. Its membership is estimated from 75,000,000 to 80,000,000, mostly in Northern Europe and America. The three books translated into most languages in the world are: The Bible, in about 80 languages; "Luther's Catechism," in 137; "Pilgrim's Progress," in 407. The most translated hymn is Luther's "A Mighty Fortress," in 100.

Successful Metho! That May Be Used In The Home

Old rugs may be dyed at home in a practical manner reads an article in the May issue of "Successful Farming."

"First of all, spread the rug out flat and scrub thoroughly clean with one can of rug soap and water. Let it stand for fifteen minutes and then spray well with cold water from the garden hose, or rinse with buckets of cold water. For a 9 x 12 rug use six packages of one of the standard, well known brands of dye designated for silk and wool mixtures. Set the color with a half pint of vinegar, full strength. The rug will take the dye nicely while still damp but the drying takes some time."

Jimmy—"Well, I had to give him a lickin' or receive one."

The Stranger Within Our Gates

Every year this country in which we live is drawing people from almost every country in the world. Many prosperous Americans, each year sell their goods and move to Canada, where they can get good land very cheaply. Though the country is growing, the population is still scattered and it can support many more.

Most of our readers understand very well what is meant by "homestead lands." The government has pursued a very generous policy in the granting of public lands. Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over eighteen years of age, may homestead a quarter section of one hundred and sixty acres of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. By the payment of ten dollars at the time application for homestead entry is made, and one year's residence and cultivation of the land in each of the three succeeding years, a deed may be obtained from the Dominion government.

Canada's desire is to obtain farmers, agricultural laborers and those who would not compete with those engaged in the skilled trades. At one time a large number of immigrants came from the cities in Great Britain and were not fitted to engage in agricultural pursuits, which entailed much hardship and misery upon themselves and did not benefit the country as much as it should have done. Many philanthropic societies assisted in landing thousands of penniless immigrants on Canadian shores. In one case where an organization assisted 5,200 immigrants, seventy-eight were either penniless or on the border. As a result of several investigations a revision was made in the laws and they are enforced with greater rigidity. The aim is to debar all not suited to Canadian conditions.

It may interest some to know the restrictions which the law places on people desirous of coming to this new country. It says that those who are feeble-minded or insane cannot land. Nor does it allow the deaf, dumb or cripples to come in unless they belong to families which are able to take care of them. Then people who have certain diseases are shut out and an effort is made to keep away those whose moral character is not good. Anyone who commits crime within two years of coming to Canada may be sent back to the country from which they came, in other words, deported.

Chinese

Chinese immigrants began to come to British Columbia about 1858, but it was not until the late seventies that any opposition was made to their entry. Several laws against them were passed by the government of British Columbia, but they were declared unconstitutional. Finally the matter was taken up by the Dominion government and in 1885, an entrance tax of $50.00 was imposed. In 1900 the tax was increased to $100.00 and three years later to $500.00.

Japanese

The Japanese began to come to the country in 1896. While the Chinese do not compete very much with skilled white labor, there is some competition in the case of the Japanese. The Japanese are quick to learn English and show more readiness than the Chinese to become naturalized. Under a treaty which was made in 1905 between Canada and Japan, the subjects of either country were granted full rights of entry into the territories of the other. At the same time there was an understanding that Japan would regulate the number of Japanese laborers coming into Canada. The Japanese government has kept its word and very few Japanese now come to Canada.

Hindus

In 1904 a number of Hindus began to enter British Columbia, and in 1907 when 2,200 arrived, some ill feeling arose. The sudden increase was due to glowing accounts having been distributed in the rural districts of India telling of the wages paid in British Columbia, and to certain steamship agents who wished to make profit on tickets sold. The British government took the matter up and no contract laborers from India are now allowed into Canada. All immigrants must have made a continuous journey from the country of their origin and all Asiatic immigrants with the exception of the Japanese must possess on landing at least two hundred dollars.

Doukhobors

In 1899 a number of ignorant Russian peasants came to Western Canada in order that they might be allowed to follow in freedom their religious beliefs. Later they attracted world-wide attention by a famous pilgrimage which they attempted to make. They came under the influence of fanatics who proclaimed that they should give up labor and all their goods and go forth like Christ to preach the gospel. They handed over their money to the nearest government agent, cattle and horses were allowed to go free, but were rounded up and taken in charge by the mounted police. They cut the metal hooks and eyes from their clothes, set everything in order in their homes, and started on a pilgrimage which soon alarmed the authorities. The government took stern measures and the motley crowd was brought back to their homes. At this time, Peter Vergehl, their leader, who had completed a form of exile in Siberia, reached Canada. Under his leadership, order was soon restored and since that time the people have remained quietly on the land.

Everything among the Doukhobors is held in common. They live in villages of one to two hundred people and there are nearly fifty of these. Each cottage is surrounded by a garden. A large communal barn is for the farming implements while one or two large stables furnish shelter for the horses, cattle, sheep and pigs. All work in the fields and the working day is from five o'clock in the morning until eight in the evening. The time is divided into three shifts of five hours each. The leader is the active manager of the Doukhobors. He is the custodian of the funds, to which each man, woman and child contributes his or her earnings. He sells the products and buys at wholesale the goods needed. Two men and one woman delegates are sent from each village to the general meeting. ### The American

The American in Canada can not be called an immigrant, as he is rather a solid citizen. He considers that Western Canada offered a better opportunity than his own state and so he comes with all his goods.

Orphans

An interesting part of Canadian immigration is the number of children immigrants. Friendless children are carefully trained in orphanages in England, and are brought over from the age of five to fourteen. Older children, especially boys, are also brought over, although in less numbers. The younger children are usually adopted into Canadian homes and the older ones are generally sent to work for farmers. The orphanages have headquarters in this country called "Homes," where the children live until they become used to the country. The wages for which they work are fixed by the Homes and visitors regularly inquire after the welfare of all the children.

It is said that with the exception of Johannesburg, Winnipeg is said to hear more languages spoken on its streets than any other city in the world. It is a great distributing center for immigrants and with excellent day evening schools; is performing a valuable service in making Canadian citizens out of these strangers.

Canada has great areas of unoccupied, rich, fertile plains, and one of the chief aims of her immigration policy is to get suitable settlers for these lands, and to get farm and railroad laborers and domestic servants.

The Canadian law is very flexible. The power conferred on the Governor-General in Council is so great that it would be possible through special orders, to cut off not only any particular class of immigration, but to stop immigration altogether. No country in the world has exercised greater care in the selection of her immigrants and no country has met with greater success in the work.

PROMINENT WESTERN CHARACTERS—SOME INTERESTING ANECDOTES OF PEOPLE WE ALL KNOW

MR. TOM HOURIE

Big Tom (Son of Peter) Who Captured Riel—How the Gallant Half Breed Swam the Saskatchewan Naked when the Ice Was Running—He Dies in the Yukon—Rebellion of 1885.

There are few more gallant or picturesque figures in the whole thrilling history of the west than that of Tom Hourie, the eldest son of Peter Hourie. Standing six feet five in his stockings, he was a man of splendid physique and enormous strength. His feat of swimming the Saskatchewan naked in the spring of 1885, when the ice was running, when bearing despatches from General Middleton to Prince Albert from Humboldt, left its mark on even his iron frame, and his death in the Yukon later on in the prime of life was no doubt hastened by this tremendous experience. How Tom Hourie swam the river, and how he captured Louis Riel, the leader of the second North West Rebellion, will be found detailed below, but before proceeding to tell these stories, some particulars of Tom's life may be given, and will, I am sure, be read with interest. I may say that all I shall write of Tom Hourie, bears, as it were, the imprimatur of his great father, Peter, who talked to me with a father's pride of his son, as I sat with him as his guest in the old mill on the Crooked Lakes Indian Reserve near Broadview. Peter at this time, was eighty-two years of age, but his mind was clear as a bell. His statements may be taken as authentic for Peter Hourie was a truthful man of the highest moral character. It is not to be wondered at that the Hourie's proved such magnificent exemplars of the mixed race, for Tom's grandfather on his father's side was a Hourie of Kirkwall in the Orkney Islands, a man of great strength and stature, who had fought as a cavalryman in the great battle of Waterloo. Tom was born at the Touchwood Hills Hudson's Bay Post, where Mr. Wm. McKay, the father of Mr. Thomas McKay, of Prince Albert, and James McKay, now a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada, was in charge. The post is about 45 miles from Fort Qu'Appelle.

Tom as a Baby and a Boy—Captain Palliser, the Explorer, Commends Him; also Mr. Hind—A Great Hunter and Buffalo Runner.

I will give the particulars I have in full, and if incidentally we get some intimate glimpses of Tom's father, the story will be all the richer for them. Peter's account in his own words—for I made notes as he spoke—was as follows. He said:

"Tom was a big, fat, stout baby; oh, he was fat and strong alright. Very early he was a great hunter and a great buffalo runner. He was as fearless as anything could be from all points. As a boy he was a very quiet boy—a very mild boy. When Captain Palliser passed there in the Touchwood Hills, the men were away at the time buffalo hunting. Captain Palliser camped just outside the fort. My wife asked him and his men to come and camp in the house as it looked like a thunderstorm. 'No,' said Captain Palliser, 'I will camp out,' and he did. He saw Tom and was delighted to see the little fellow, and took great notice of him. (Note:—Captain John Palliser, representing the British Government, explored the western country in 1859, and his reports and papers are a great authority on the subject.)

Peter said Mr. Hind also passed through. (Note:—Mr. Hind was also an explorer of the North West Territory. Acting under the instructions of the Canadian Government, he headed an exploring expedition in 1860; known as the Assiniboine and Saskatchewan Exploring Expedition.) Peter did not see Captain Palliser, being away buffalo hunting, but he met Mr. Hind.

Peter Talks of Hind, the Explorer—Peter Gets Hurt—Tom and the Bishops.

Peter said that while Mr. Hind was camped at Touchwood he (Peter) got hurt by his own foolishness. He said, "There would be horses around the place, and running up to a horse I would put Mr. Hind on the horse's rump, and then jump on the horse myself, and away we would go. On one occasion the horse slipped from under me, and I fell down and hurt my heart. Hind gave me instructions how to treat it. Hind was a very nice talkative man, just as friendly as though he had known me for years. He stayed one night. Like Captain Palliser, he would not come into the Fort."

From Touchwood Peter went to Long Lake or Long Swamp. At Long Lake (Peter believed it was in 1861) Peter said he got instructions to build Fort Qu'Appelle. The original fort was about a mile and a half from the present station at Qu'Appelle station (formerly Troy). In 1862 Peter wintered at Fort Qu'Appelle. In 1863 the Catholic Bishop Tache, afterwards Archbishop, came to Fort Qu'Appelle and stayed with Peter a month. Tom was then about five or six years old. Bishop Tache asked Peter to let him take Tom and Tom's sister Margaret (who was the oldest of the children) away with him to St. Boniface. Peter consented and Tom was two years at St. Boniface, or it may have been more. Then Tom came back to his home on the prairie. Tom liked being at St. Boniface and got on very well with his learning. At a later period, it is interesting to note, Bishop McLean, the Protestant Bishop, wanted to take Tom to Prince Albert and make an Anglican missionary of him. Tom appears to have been willing, and went to Rev. Mr. Hinde at Ackcap's Reserve for training, but Tom and the Rev. gentlemen did not get on very well, so Tom "took a disgust," and left, going to Bishop McLean at Prince Albert, where the Bishop kept him at school under his own eye. Tom was then about fifteen or sixteen, and he boarded at Acadia Beed's, the man with whom his father was associated in building the first grist mill (a windmill) in Saskatchewan. The Bishop wanted Tom to go to high school and continue his studies, but Tom had a dislike for further study, and from that out all thoughts of making the big young fellow a preacher were abandoned. This was at the period when his father was farming, and when Tom gave up school, Peter put the great big lad, who even then was about six feet high, to work on the land. Tom took hold of the farming first rate, but he was always hankering after the hunt, and in winter he would be freighting. His father was a great deal away and then Tom was left in charge of the farm and his brothers and sisters, to whom he was uniformly kind. In fact, said his father, he was a real good boy. After about 1880 Tom had control of the farm, Peter being otherwise engaged, and from 1880 to 1885, the year of the rebellion, he ran the farm, and did very well. In 1885 he had grown to be what Peter described to the writer as "a terrible tall man." While Tom was completing his growth, his father was away for four or five years at Fort Walsh. He did not see any of his children for four or five years, and on his return he had to look quite a way up at his tall son, although he was a tall man himself.

Peter said Bishop MacLean was a short, stout man. As a boy at school Tom was so much taller than the Bishop that when the Bishop would meet him he would sometimes look up and say, "Well, Tom, how is the weather up there?"

We have now brought Tom's career up to the year 1885. Before the smouldering discontent of the half-breeds broke into open rebellion there were various meetings of Riel's supporters. Tom attended some of Riel's meetings, but his loyalty seems to have withstood every test, and we shall see how nobly he responded to his father's call when the time came.

How Tom Hourie Swam the Saskatchewan River Naked Through the Running Ice

The Saskatchewan varies from a quarter of a mile wide in places, and it is a feat to swim it at all for the current is swift and eddies abound. I will let Peter Hourie tell the story of his son's achievement, using no embellishment and leaving the reader to use his imagination. Peter said:

"I was not up there in the north before the Rebellion broke out, but all my sons were there. Mr. Dewdney (Lieut. Governor of the Territories) had told me that all the half-breeds in the country were to be treated the same as the French half-breeds at Winnipeg, so when the Rebellion was brewing I wrote to my son Tom and said, 'Keep out of it. The half-breeds will get the same as the Red River half-breeds.' I told him to tell the half-breeds that, but it was too late, as the trouble had commenced.

I joined General Middleton at Broadview and went from there to Qu'Appelle station. Governor Dewdney had a cart and rig there for my use. Middleton was telegraphing that whole morning. He wanted to send a message to Prince Albert, and could get no one to take his message. General Middleton sent for me to the telegraph office at Qu'Appelle station and said, 'Hourie, I have been telegraphing all morning to find some one to take a message through to Col. Irvine (commanding North West Mounted Police) who could I find? Who could do it? Could I get one of the half-breeds here to do it?'

I said, 'No there is none of the half-breeds that can take that message through, and there is no use to send a white man. It would only put him in the mouth of the trap.' So I said, 'Telegraph, General, and see if a man named Hourie is in Humboldt.'

He did so. Word came back that there was. That was my son Tom. Tom wired, 'What are you going to pay me?' General Middleton turned around to me and said, 'The lad wants to know what the pay will be. Of course he will be well paid for it.' I knew that a general promise like that would not be good enough for Tom or anybody else, but I said to the General, 'Just telegraph.' Tom, father wants you to take the message through, and not a word more. And so he did. Tom wired back that he wanted his time to be put on the Transport with the rest, that was all. General Middleton wired Tom that he would certainly get his time the same as the rest on the Transport service. When Tom said he would go, General Middleton wired the message he wanted sent through to Colonel Irvine, and the same evening Tom started off from Humboldt on horse back. He travelled the whole of the next day. After that he meets Riel's scouts at Hoodoo. They said, 'Hello Tom, where are you going now?' Tom replied, 'Oh, I hear there is trouble at Duck Lake, and one of my brothers has got killed. That was only an explanation of why he was going. The scouts were satisfied and told Tom to get on his horse, as it was alright. Tom got oats for his horse from them. They had plenty of oats which he had seized. So Tom started on again. The snow got wet and soft. He now headed for the crossing of the river—the old Hudson's Bay Crossing at Four, was there. When he got to the Saskatchewan the river was drifting full of running ice. He first tried to get across on a big piece of ice, but it upset and he was nearly drowned, but he gets back on shore again after being in the river. Tom was a good swimmer. He made a kind of a cradle of sticks to keep his clothes out of the water. There he took off his clothes, and tied them on this cradle, and swam the river naked. He was nearly frozen to death, and was bruised by the running ice. But he got across. He had hobbled his horse and put his saddle in a tree and left them behind on the other side of the river. There was settlement on the other side of the river, but the farmers had generally because of the trouble. He went to a farm house. There were pigs and chickens there running at large. He goes into the house and there makes a big fire. He goes out to the stable and gathers a lot of eggs, which he roasted by putting them in the ashes of the fire and pulling the ashes over them. He had now to walk sixteen miles to Prince Albert. He got there alright and gave his message to Colonel Irvine.

There was the father of a man there who had had his son killed at the battle of Duck Lake. He caught Tom around the neck and began crying like a child, and said to me, 'I felt for him very much, and I could not help crying with him.' Lawrence Clark, the Hudson Bay Factor, was there. Colonel Irvine gave Clark a terrible setting out. He said Clark was at the bottom of all the trouble. "And," said Peter Hourie to the writer of this account, "he was that. He was behind in his books and did not want the trouble pacified."

When Tom was getting through and had left Riel's scouts at Hoodoo behind, the scouts rather smelled a rat, when they came to think it over. So two of them started after him, but the snow was going and they failed to track him. However, they thought he would go to Batoche and at Batoche they asked if Tom Hourie had come there. The people said, 'No, he did not come here,' but he was gone by there that morning. They went down by the river, and found Tom's horse and saddle, but by this time Tom was across. They took the horse and saddle and used them all that spring, but at the fight at Fish Creek a good many horses were captured from the rebels and Tom got his horse and saddle back again and they were alright."

TETRAZZINI DECLARES HER LIFE DEVOTED TO MUSIC

"We are at home. Come right in." Francesco Longo, accompanist for Madame Luisa Tetrazzini, the great Italian singer, who arrived in Winnipeg from Duluth recently, opened wide the door of madame's private car with a welcoming smile.

And there in a simple black gown was madame herself, radiant and charming, wearing the from the French and Italian decorations which she received as a recognition of the wonderful work she did during the war.

This is madame's first visit to Winnipeg. The concert in the Board of Trade building Tuesday night will be the last in America this season. Before leaving London, madame gave one concert. The Prince of Wales arrived from Australia that day—just in time to hear the beloved Luisa, as she is called in England.

"I like much better Luisa," she said. "It is more friendly."

In the drawing room is a small size piano, which is the most important part of the car's equipment. She pointed to it smiling. Mr. Longo ran his fingers lightly over the keys, suggesting the tune of a popular jazz hit.

Madame threw her hands in indignation.

"No! No!" she cried. "No more shimmy," closing up the keyboard to show that she meant it.

"Do you like dancing?" she was asked.

"I like better to sing," was the reply. "Music is my life."

"Yes, Madame Tetrazzini has sacrificed everything to art," said Mr. Longo. "She thinks first of the public who will hear her. Her own plans always is a secondary consideration."

In all cases the Town may for any reasonable purpose make use of the poles of the Company for municipal purposes, so long as the use thereof by the Company is not interfered with, and any extra or additional cross-arms, insulators, or other fixtures required by reason of the use of the said poles by the Town shall be supplied and erected at the expense of the Town, the Town covenantee and agreeing to be responsible for and to indemnify the Company against any loss, damage or injury suffered by or recovered from the Company as the direct or indirect result of the said use of the said poles by the Town.

22. This agreement shall be read subject to the terms of Section 800 of The Town Act, namely that at the expiration of the term hereby granted, the same may be renewed for a period not exceeding ten (10) years and so from time to time with such alterations, if any, as may be agreed upon by the parties and approved by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners and that if either party refuses to renew such contract, or if the parties fail to agree as to the conditions of such renewal, then the Council of the Town may, subject to the approval of the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners, purchase all the rights of the Company in all matters and things under this contract and in all plant, machinery, equipment, apparatus and property used for the purpose thereof, for such price and on such terms as may be agreed upon by the Company, or failing such agreement, then, for such price and on such terms as may be fixed and settled by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners on the application of either of the parties. PROVIDED that this paragraph shall not apply to any portion of the Company's main transmission line and a step down sub-station.

23. Subject to the observance and performance by the Company of the terms and covenants of this agreement the Town shall not, for a period of ten (10) years from the date of the execution of this agreement or during any extension thereof, either by itself, or grant to any other person, firm or corporation the right to, erect, construct, establish, maintain or operate an electric light and electric power plant or to sell or dispose of electric light or electric power in the Town for any purpose.

24. PROVIDED and it is distinctly understood and agreed that in the event of default being made by the Company in the observance and performance of the terms, conditions and covenants of this agreement and such default being unreasonably continued, then the rights and privileges hereby granted to the Company (at the option of the Town) cease and determine in the same manner and to all intents and purposes as if the full period of ten (10) years herein mentioned had elapsed and the Town shall have the right to purchase the plant and property of the Company on the same terms and conditions as at the expiration of the said period of ten (10) years; PROVIDED that none of the rights or remedies of the Town under this agreement, and in particular any right to recover damages from the Company for such default in a Court of competent jurisdiction, shall be in any way merged, waived, suspended, prejudiced or affected by the exercise of the said option on the part of the Town. Failure on the part of the Town to exercise the said option shall not operate as a waiver of the Company's default to prevent the exercise of such option in the event of any later or similar default by the Company.

25. The Company shall be liable for and shall indemnify the Town for any damages arising out of the construction and operation of its works owing to the negligence of the Company, its servants and employees and the Town shall be liable for all damages to the plant and equipment of the Company caused by the Town, its workmen, employees or licensees.

26. All the rights, powers and privileges reserved to and conferred upon the Town by this agreement may be exercised and enjoyed by the council of the Town and any person or persons from time to time authorized by the said Council for that purpose.

27. The Company shall before proceeding with the construction, reconstruction, extension or alteration of any of its distribution system submit plans therefor to the Council of the Town and shall obtain the approval of the Council to such plans and will, where reasonably possible and convenient construct, erect, and lay its poles, wires, conduits and cables and other works and undertakings through and along lanes in preference to streets and avenues.

28. The Company shall submit and hereby agrees to submit the business and operation thereof, pursuant to this agreement to the control and supervision of the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners of the Province of Alberta, in all respects as such Company would have been subject to such control and supervision had it come within the provision or description of paragraph (g) of Section 2 of "The Public Utilities Act."

29. Notwithstanding anything herein contained it is mutually acknowledged and understood by and between the parties hereto that the Company is a Licensee of a Dominion Water Power and as such is subject to and bound by the provisions of "The Dominion Water Power Act" and "The Dominion Lands Act" and the regulations passed pursuant thereto so far as the same may prevail.

30. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein contained it is mutually agreed that the rights, powers and privileges conferred and granted by this agreement shall not be deemed to be exclusive as against His Majesty in the right of the Province.

THIS AGREEMENT and everything herein contained shall respectively ensure to the benefit and be binding upon the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties hereto have executed these presents the day and year first above written.

Three fish hatcheries will soon be in operation in Alberta, those at Banff and Waterton Lake being supplemented by one at Edmonton. Each can handle 1,600,000 fry a season. These are not necessarily "fried fish."

A twenty dollar gold piece that was treasured for a thousand dollars and that sold for twelve hundred, was recently shipped by Canadian Pacific Express. The coin was one of seven struck by the government in the Cariboo district at the time of the gold rush, it being thought that a mint could best be operated on the spot. This proved uneconomical, however, and after seven pieces had been issued, the project was abandoned. The coin in question was shipped by the S.S. Montclair to a numismatist in England.

Over 97% of the total investments of the Canadian Pacific Railway and all its varied enterprises are in Canada.

Most fruits, except those indigenous to the tropics or sub-tropics, are now grown in British Columbia. Apples, apricots, cherries, peaches, plums, prunes, nectarines, figs, loganberries, raspberries, strawberries, grapes, almonds and other less hardy fruits and some of them now grown commercially. Apples have been grown for 17 years, rising in volume of production from 250,000 to 3,000,000 bushels.

With 99 arrivals scheduled at the Port of Montreal and Quebec during the 1929 season, the Canadian Pacific sets up a new record for the line sailing its ships via the St. Lawrence route. There will be 74 arrivals and departures at Montreal and 25 at Quebec, the season opening with the arrival on April 26th of the Montclair, the Duchess of York. The latter will be on her maiden voyage of the St. Lawrence. The first arrival at Quebec will be the Empress of Scotland, May 4th, after a winter of cruising in the Mediterranean.

One little pig went to market; and low and behold there were eight little pigs when the shipment arrived. It was a sow, and en route several of the sows were delivered. Whether the shipper or the express company shall pay the fares of the seven extra and unexpected pigs is a matter that has not been decided yet.

Thirty thousand tons of railway material—trucks and steel framing for box cars—will shortly leave Vancouver for the Orient as equipment for the Trans-Siberian Railway. The order for this material was placed thirteen years ago, but delivery was halted with the outbreak of the Russian Revolution, and the equipment held in the Canadian Pacific Railway's yards at Coquitlam until conditions for delivery were more favorable.

Vancouver's growth since its incorporation in 1886 is reflected by the official estimate of the population of the new city by the assessor's commission which shows it 238,195 for the city proper. A reliable but unofficial estimate of the population of Greater Vancouver is 285,000 exclusive of New Westminster. Greater Vancouver includes the City of North Vancouver, the district of North Vancouver, the municipalities of Burnaby and West Vancouver. Greater Vancouver and New Westminster jointly have a population of about 300,000 or about half the population of the entire province.

CANADA WILL NOT BAN LIQUOR CLEARANCES

Ottawa.—The government of Canada is not disposed at present to accede to the request of the United States that clearances be prohibited on liquor shipments, destined for that country. The door however, is not closed and the Dominion government is ready to give consideration to such representations as it may receive on this important matter.

The attitude of the government on the question of refusing clearance to liquor cargoes was indicated in the House by Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of national revenue. Mr. Euler spoke in reply to speeches by J. B. Woods, Labor, Winnipeg, North Centre, and others in the Progressive and U.P.A. ranks, in which the statement was made that Canada was guilty of an unfriendly act in not acceding to the United States request. Demand for government action on the matter has been indicated by the presentation of numerous petitions during the session requesting the refusal of clearance to liquor shipments.

The minister pointed out the difficulties which inevitably arose when a country law was located next door to one which permitted the manufacture and sale of liquor.

He expressed doubt as to whether refusal of clearances would result in stopping the flow of liquor into the United States. He pointed out that if Canada was to amend the Customs law so as to refuse clearances to liquor shipments, this country would require a new and larger preventive force in order to enforce the law.

Seeding Delayed In Ontario

Late Spring and Cool Weather Is Worry To Farmers

Toronto.—Apprehension over the backward spring season is being felt generally among farmers throughout the western and south-western parts of Ontario. Farmers are becoming much concerned over the delay to seeding caused by heavy rains and continued cool weather. In most instances throughout this section of the province seeding is from ten days to two weeks behind and in some districts three weeks.

The Niagara fruit district has not reported any appreciable damage to trees and vines, but practically all farm crops are delayed.

One-Year-Old Stowaway

Was Hidden On Liner But Discovered By Customs Officials

New York.—A one-year-old, one-year-old, and said to be the youngest stowaway ever apprehended at this port, at Ellis Island, in the disconsolate colony of immigrants who will have to go back to "the old country."

Customs men discovered Elias as her mother, Maria Dolores Valerio, a Portuguese stewardess of the liner President Wilson, was trying to carry her ashore hidden under a shawl. Elias made most of the trip hidden in a linen closet.

Postmen In Civil Service

The Letter Carrier's Association has been in existence for some 35 years. They withdrew from the Civil Service Federation seven years ago.

Clergy and Tobacco

Heated Discussion Takes Place At Meeting In Toronto

Toronto.—Stormy scenes developed here at a meeting of the Toronto Centre Presbytery of the United Church over the adoption of a report by a special meeting on the use of tobacco by ministers.

Heated discussion took place regarding a section of the report which reads: "That the Christian character of those who regard the use of tobacco as an innocent gratification should not rest on that account be impugned."

Dr. J. Kerr denounced the use of tobacco and objected to the adoption of the committee's report.

"I cannot accept Dr. Bland's report," said Dr. Kerr, "for it implies that the use of tobacco is an innocent gratification. I do not believe it. I think it is a wasteful habit." He presented a resolution, later adopted, which deplored the effect of tobacco on the youth of the country.

Rancher Uses Airplane

Flew From Montana To Saskatoon For Calf-Feeding Competition

Saskatoon, Sask.—G. G. Ross, of St. Kitts, Alta., who has a ranch of more than 200,000 acres on the borders of Saskatchewan, Alberta and Montana might be called "the flying rancher."

He arrived in Saskatoon last week from Great Falls, Montana, by plane accompanied by two other airmen, E. T. Vance, of the Great Falls Airway Company, and R. Laidlaw, of Medicine Hat, Alta. Mr. Ross flew here from Chicago and Great Falls to see what progress boys and girls in this district were making in a calf-feeding competition for which he supplied 1,000 calves last fall. The calves will soon be brought back to Saskatoon as prime baby beef. The competition is being sponsored by the Saskatoon Board of Trade.

Trouble In China

British Prepare Defences In City Of Canton

Canton, China.—British sailors landing from gunboats in the harbor in the Shamen quarter immediately began construction of defenses in various parts of the English concession.

Gates and bridges were closed and guards were posted. In the native city the utmost tenseness prevailed with attacking Kwangtung troops known to be not far away, although there was no definite word as to their position. Sacking of the city, the largest in Southern China, was feared in the event of capture by the red Kwangtung element which was believed imminent.

Supplied Gas For Zeppelin

Sufficient For Trip Back To Germany Obtained In France

Cuera, France.—French naval authorities here supplied the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin with 3,000 cubic metres of hydrogen lifting gas. It was explained that the ship's lifting gas supply had been carefully apportioned to the load to be lifted and which, while sufficient for the trip to America, was not sufficient for the three additional persons aboard who intended flying back to Friedrichshafen in the dirigible.

Promise To Be Good

Des Moines, Ia.—Dean E. C. Callaway, who represented students and faculty of Des Moines university at the meeting of the Baptist Bible Union of North America, in Buffalo, N.Y., has obtained a pledge from the students that there would be no more rioting or violence when the trustees return.

Was Lonely

Submarine Disasters No Longer Possible

Naval Officers Consider Demonstration Of Rescue Great Success

Colon, Canal Zone.—For the first time in the history of the United States a navy submarine and its crew were raised from the bottom of the sea in Panama Bay. On May 17, the S-11 went down to a depth of 87 feet, was found by the submarine S-12, and was raised by the rescue ship Mallard a few hours after going to the bottom.

Naval officers here were so impressed with the demonstration that they said no disaster such as followed the sinking of the S-51 or the S-4 was now possible.

The S-12 caught the signals just one hour after the first call from the S-11. Then the rescue ship Mallard started for the spot and sighted air bubbles at 10.30 a.m. Twenty-five minutes later a grapple had been hooked on to the sunken submarine.

Resigns Chancellorship

Sir Robert Borden Has Tendered Resignation As Head Of Queens University

Kingston, Ont.—Announcement was made at Queens University that the chancellor, Sir Robert L. Borden, has tendered his resignation.

Canada's war-time prime minister was elected to the chancellorship five years ago to succeed E. W. Beatty, K.C., who was chosen as chancellor of McGill University, Montreal.

Sir Robert presided at the convocation of arts and sciences graduates at the university nearly two weeks ago. The name of James Richardson, of Winnipeg, is being prominently mentioned as a successor to Sir Robert, although nothing has been said at the university. Sir Robert's resignation will be considered by the senate and the trustees of the university.

EXPRESS SHIPMENTS BY AIR

Express shipments between Canada and European Continental countries are handled in part by air service under an arrangement reached between the Canadian National Express and the Imperial Airways, the French Air Line, the G.I.N.A. of France and other important continental air lines. The first shipment thus handled was flown recently from Croydon Aerodrome, near London, England, and consisted of a small lot of valuable Canadian furs shipped from Canada for a Paris salon.—Canadian National Railways photograph.

Joint Radio Control

Plan Is Endorsed By The Royal Society Of England

Ottawa.—Joint control of radio broadcasting by the federal and provincial governments, with special preference given to educational programs, public information and entertainment, was endorsed as the best policy for the Dominion at a session of the Royal Society of Canada.

Another feature of the day's proceedings was the defeat of a recommendation submitted by a sub-committee which would have limited the printing of scientific papers in the official journal of the society.

The decision concerning radio control made in response to a request by the Royal Commission on radio for the society's opinion, was reached largely as the result of a report made by Dr. H. M. Tory, head of the Federal Research Council.

Mrs. Canella Roy, rector of Laval University, delivered his presidential address, in which he cited the society as a model for development of co-operation among all the races and intellectual spheres from coast to coast in the Dominion.

Following his address, Mgr. Roy presented the Sir Joseph Flavelle medal for outstanding work in science to Dr. A. H. R. Buller, University of Manitoba, and announced that the J. B. Tyrrell medal for outstanding work in connection with the history of Canada had been awarded to Prof. George M. Wrong, University of Toronto. Mgr. Roy himself was made the recipient of the Lorne Pierce medal for excellence in pure literature, especially French-Canadian literature.

A Day Of Thanksgiving

June 16 Is Unofficially Announced As Date Of Thanksgiving For Recovery Of King

London, England.—It is understood that Sunday, June 16, has been selected as the date that King George will appear as a day of thanksgiving for his recovery, from his recent grave illness.

The programme as unofficially forecast, contemplates a special service at Westminster Abbey, attended by the King and Queen and other members of the royal family, to which the public will be admitted.

It is recalled the King, in a special message from Craigview House on April 22, said he looked forward to joining with his people "on some appointed day" in thanking God not only for his own recovery, "but for the new evidence of growing kindness significant of the true nature of men and nations."

Urged To Pay Interest

Montreal.—The Government of Canada should pay interest on all money held by it and refundable to citizens. Such a course is required by equity as the government enjoys the use of such money pending repayment on account of taxes, etc. So states a resolution adopted by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and sent to all members of the House of Commons and the Senate.

THREE MEMBER GRAIN BOARD IS RECOMMENDED

Ottawa.—In order to give Leslie Boyd, chairman of the grain commission, and Matthew Snow, who is a member, an opportunity to confer over recommendations they will submit to the agricultural committee of the House of Commons, the committee met only a few minutes this afternoon.

It was explained by Hon. James Macdonald, minister of trade and commerce, that the two commissioners who are witnesses before the committee have not had an opportunity to talk matters over, because Mr. Snow has been in the West and Mr. Boyd has been undergoing treatment in Montreal.

A three-member grain board, with headquarters at Winnipeg and some six sub-commissioners or field men to inspect elevator work, with complaints and to investigate conditions in the various grain growing districts in Western Canada were urged by Mr. Boyd.

The sub-commissioners would be located at Edmonton, Calgary, Regina or Moose Jaw, Northern Manitoba and Southern Manitoba. There should also be additional elevator inspectors for the rush seasons. Three members of the board would be better than five as proposed, he thought. The members should meet often so that uniformity in its decisions could be obtained.

Mr. Boyd agreed with the suggestion that one member of the board visit the markets of Europe each year so that each member would get the overseas viewpoint once each three years. He thought the situation with the staff of the board under the civil service commission was fairly satisfactory.

As to the claims of Regina for the headquarters of the grain board, Mr. Boyd agreed Regina was more nearly the centre of the prairie grain growing districts than Winnipeg, but most complaints had to be adjusted at the company headquarters, which were at Winnipeg. It was for this reason he favored Winnipeg.

Seeking Air Mail Route

Swedish Aviator Thinks U.S.-Scandinavian Summer Service Possible

Stockholm.—A possible summer route for air mail service between the United States and Scandinavia is being sought by Capt. Abbin Ahrenberg, Swedish aviator, who hopes to set out about June 3, on a three-stop flight from Stockholm to New York. Ahrenberg believes it is practicable to operate an air mail service along the northern route between mid-April and mid-September.

The hop, skip and jump trip to New York should take about three days, Ahrenberg thinks.

Aims To Make Good

Man From England Has Determination To Win Out In Canada

Toronto.—Worth "20,000 quid" (£20,000), as he termed it, George Westbury, of Ascot, England, arrived in Toronto with £2 in his pockets, determined to prove to England's submerged classes that a man with pluck and determination can make good in Canada.

"I have two pounds in my pocket now," he said, "and I'd rather put a shot through my head than cable home for more money."

Amend Bankruptcy Act

Ottawa.—Second and third readings were given in the Senate to a measure amending the Bankruptcy Act. Senator Jacques Bureau, the sponsor, explained that the purpose of the bill was to require persons seeking to have debtors adjudged bankrupt to take legal action in the judicial district of the alleged insolvent.

The Prince of Wales has so extended his marriage to . . . Banff Highland Gathering and Scottish Music Festival to be held this summer at the Banff Springs Hotel in the Rockies. Pipers, dancers, and athletes from all parts of the country compete in these popular games.

Two baby black bears were great attractions recently at the Detroit Sportmen's Show. They were from Phil Lamont's at Mattawa, Ontario, and were escorted to their destination by a member of the C. P. Enough flowers are planted by the Canadian Pacific Railway each year to beautify a couple of cities. The floral branch each year sends out to station agents and employees along its line plants, bulbs, shrubs, seedlings, and seeds by the tens of thousands to decorate the company's right-of-way.

Five railway cars were required to move the equipment of the mammoth Cassavant Organ recently installed in the new Royal York Hotel in Toronto. The hotel is the tallest building in the British Empire.

Island of Orleans—Island of Bacchus

The ship may be as old as the wine, and the house where Cartier found the Indians and the vines. The house by the road is more than 250 years old.

"WE likewise found quantities of vines such as we had seen nowhere else in the world and which led us to call this the 'Island of Bacchus'." Thus the Saint Malo captain, Cartier, who discovered the Isle of Orleans in 1498 first named it.

Four hundred years. Ships of the adventurer, the explorer, the pioneer, the builder of empire and later, great ships of commerce followed those of Cartier, but the Isle of Bacchus has not known them all and has slept before the portal of the new world for many generations. Not that it has been forgotten, but that the bigger ships have gone by. Industry has not destroyed its charm and today it remains, if not the pristine Isle of Cartier, a place of old France as translated by those who shortly followed him.

The illustrations above typify the island. "Progress" has been slow. Its people have learned the secret of content. Their tongues, their modes, their homes are of a century ago. They weave their catalogue; live in homespun. They are blessed with old people. Yet, a short ferry distance away, Quebec with its ramparts, its Chateau Frontenac and its ocean shipping, keeps pace with the advance of the times.

At Ste. Petronille, one of the quaint little villages where wealthy Quebec has its summer homes, an Inn has this year been opened, so that it is now possible for the visitor to rest for a while and absorb in leisure the charm and beauty of the forgotten island. But he must be prepared to eat of the good viands of the Habitant and to live a little closer to the homespun. The people of the island will welcome him with good-will, but they have little liking for the modern. They have the secret of content and good-living, on the Island of Bacchus.

The name of the new Inn is La Catalogne and it once was a seigniorial mansion.

The Desert Song

—BY—
VIRGINIA MORRIS

Copyright 1929 Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"The Desert Song" is a Warner Bros. picture of this novel. It is based upon the story by Otto Harbach, Laurence Schwab, Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd, and Frank Marshall.

CHAPTER I.

Greedy the copper coin of the sun was tossed by some invisible hand into the coffers of the desert. Now a purple radiance suffused the burning sands till the deepening twilight gradually wrapped its cloak all around. A few hours before a pure silver moon had been poised in the cloudless daylight sky, but as night descended this assumed a golden red and seemed to retain, concentrated in its mellow circle, all the glow and color of the desert landscape that was now clothed in a nocturnal mantle.

Out of the range of the moon's brightest silver stars began to show their glinting lights. A soft cool breeze slowly blew up, shifting the sand drifts into new undulation that stretched to far horizons. The majestic silence was so intense as to be almost audible.

One would have sworn that not a human being dwelt within ten leagues of the spot. Then all at once out there in the infinity of desert space arose a faint stirring. For a moment nothing was seen, but as the stirring grew into a definite far-off sound, under the rich light of the orange moon there appeared a tiny speck where sand and sky met on the distant horizon. Over the crest of the dunes another speck appeared, followed by countless others. But now the leader was distinguishable as a rider on a fleet-footed horse, followed by a ribbon of other desert cavalymen clad in turbans and flowing robes, their rifles held high in their right arms to proclaim their warring spirit.

The swish of galloping hoofs raising granules of sand in a dusty trail behind them was at first the only sound to break the stillness. But as the last rider came into view over the crest of the distant slopes the voices of a hundred men filled the night singing the rousing bars of their tribal song, the song of the Riffs, those desert outlaws who have scored the domination of the alien French.

Far across the desert these riders swept until they reached the crags where they had their secret encampment. Up a short trail their horses climbed to an opening in the rocks that formed a narrow cave. Here they dismounted. "Some warden laid to where a cauldron was stewing goat's meat for the evening meal."

In the fire's light Sid El Kar, Lieutenant to the Red Shadow—the leader of the Riffs, examined some messages that the horsemen had brought from scattered members of the tribe. The subordinate, who came beside him ventured a worried comment:

"I hope the French don't find us. This new leader of theirs, Captain Paul Fontaine—"

Sid El Kar uttered a vile oriental oath and spat in the sand. "To the credit with him. For five years the frog-eaters have been chasing our hand and all they have caught—is our dust!"

"But," put forward the other, "it is different this last week since Captain Fontaine has taken command. Three times they have nearly trapped us."

Sid El Kar's mouth formed a contemptuous sneer. "He pointed to the tent that lay pitched closest to the river."

"Our Red Shadow is a match for a million Captain Paul Fontaines!"

There were few faint hearts in the Riff band. They had confidence in their prowess as fighters and above all in the bravery of their mysterious and intrepid leader, the Red Shadow. A stranger out of nowhere he had come to champion their cause against the tyranny of the imperious attitude of conqueror and vanquished. But even against the armed forces of the French garrison, the Riffs had succeeded in preserving their independence. Now led by this fearless desert Robin Hood, they defied the rule of the foreigners and defended their desert brothers against the domination of those who failed to understand their customs or their emotions. Surely the Red Shadow was sent by Mahomet to protect his children! None knew whence he came, but when the signal fires were lit and the Riffs assembled, the Red Shadow always appeared as if by magic. Then when the good work was accomplished he rode off, where no one could say.

Attracted by the savory scent of the cooking, other members of the band who had waited their horses and tethered them, now drew near the fire. To their companions who had remained in camp they recounted the news they had gathered on their latest expedition. The whole town, it seemed, was talking of this Captain Paul Fontaine who, with a regiment of devils from the Foreign Legion, had set out to discover the Riffs' hiding place. General Bira-beau, commandant of the post, was offering him every assistance with additional horses and troops.

They had picked up another juicy bit of gossip, too. Captain Fontaine was in love, madly enamored of a beautiful and chic French girl, Margot Bonvalet, who had recently come out from Paris. Her father, so one said, was a lifelong friend of General Bira-beau, and it was at his quarters that she was staying—and breaking the heart of every handsome officer in the regiment. But her preference, it was clear, was for Fontaine who had promised her, with a gesture of bravado, that he would bring her the Red Shadow as a prisoner.

The throat caught a wave of mer-rimant among the band. The Riffs would never fall under the power of the French!

"To kill the Red Shadow, Fontaine must kill us all!" shouted one of them lustily.

"May evil spirits possess them. Fontaine and — Margot Bonvalet!" added another fiercely.

All at once their talking ceased. They drew themselves to military attention. For before them stood the Red Shadow himself!

CHAPTER II.

Every line of his fine straight figure proclaimed the fighter. He wore a loose, bright scarlet burnoose, the hood of which was held firmly around his forehead by a white band. He was shod in gleaming black military boots and his sword was sheathed in the scabbard that hung beneath the folds of his cloak. His chin suggested that his face was as handsome as his physique but one could not be sure of this because his cheeks and eyes were concealed behind a scarlet mask. This, which he always wore, had helped to surround him with an aura of mystery for even his closest henchman had never seen him without it.

With a wave of his hand, the Red Shadow signaled his followers to be at ease. They relaxed from their military attitude and segregated into small groups. Their leader approached Sid El Kar and Hassi, who was another of his trusted fighters in spite of his advancing years.

"I overheard this talk of Captain Fontaine," he said, "and I scorn his threats! But I do not like the references to this girl they call Margot."

His listeners looked up in surprise. Then he continued, addressing himself to Hassi, "My friend, I want your promise. The sign of the Heart and the Head."

"It is gladly given," affirmed the oriental as he placed his right hand over his heart, then raised it solemnly to his forehead in the desert ritual that signifies a sacred pledge.

The Red Shadow lowered his voice to a whisper. "If anything should happen to me, no harm must ever come to Margot Bonvalet!"

The two Riffs regarded him with astonishment.

"Master, I do not understand," said the perplexed Hassi.

When Food Sours

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient, and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

"No," agreed the Red Shadow, "you do not understand me. That is because you are Mohammedans while I am French."

"But," interrupted Sid El Kar, "none of the band knows you're French, except us two!"

"That is why I am asking this promise of you," insisted their leader. "No harm must ever come to Margot Bonvalet."

"Now, listen, Master," argued Hassi, "after all she's only a woman."

"That is the oriental in you," retorted the Frenchman, "you cannot understand western love, but let me tell you this, I would not be your leader if it were not for this Margot."

Then for the first time he disclosed to them the motives that had led him, an outsider, to champion the cause of the Riffs and their people. A strange story it was that he told them! Eight years ago in Paris he had fallen in love with this girl. She had refused to take him seriously, had called him a silly boy—so he had enlisted in the French army to prove to her that he was a man. He set out from home with a costumed sailing for Morocco, under the command of General Fontaine, Captain Fontaine's own father.

This general had been notorious for his cruel treatment of the natives. Sometimes his own men used to refer to him secretly as the Butcher. One day he had commissioned the one now known as the Red Shadow to raid a certain village. The soldier had refused to exercise this unnecessary brutality and his superior had struck him full in the face, cursing him and calling him a cowardly traitor. To escape the inevitable sentence that the court martial would pass for insubordination, he fled to the hills where the Riffs made their lair.

Some girls get husbands, and some never learn the art of telling men how wonderful they are.

North: "I like to be alone."

West: "Well, you could stay at home evenings!"

Why go to Peru?

When crude oil is so plentifully available here in North America, why does Imperial Oil Limited go 4000 miles to Peru for the crude from which Marvelube is made?

It is because Peruvian crude has lubrication properties which make it particularly desirable as a base for a superior motor oil.

That is why Marvelube is giving aircraft operators longer periods between engine overhauls and a greater margin of safety.

Marvelube meets the needs of the modern high-speed motor, in the air or on the road, because its carbon-free and heat-resisting super-properties are created by Nature herself.

Let Marvelube give you the benefits of better lubrication. There is a grade of Marvelube refined to meet exactly the specifications of your car, truck or tractor. See the Marvelube Chart at Imperial Oil dealers and service stations.

IT PAYS TO PAY CASH.

Our Town's Soft Spots

Stony Plain's proving ground for automobiles had a lot of customers on Friday, the holiday. This ground is not so extensive as the areas provided by the makers of cars, but the test is, without doubt, as severe.

Those who rode the bumps in the morning with a merry heart little thought of the endurance test awaiting them on their return trip.

Before the showers, navigation here was fairly good—for those who knew the proper course to keep; but, after the downpour, this patch became a veritable Devil's Furlong; also some floundering motorists called it a different appellation.

In the coming darkness, one mired tourist awaiting the arrival of a team asked where they were at, and was told "At the nuisance grounds!"

Several cars proved to be unequal to the test. One touring car succumbed with an attack of locomotor ataxia; another derelict had engine trouble (argentina pectoris, its owner said); while another quit, a sufferer from spinal something, &c., & so on.

As there is a lot of traffic coming this way since the Baseline was closed west of here, our Town Fathers might arrange to have the next holiday in the dry season.

Ben Bernie to Open Royal York

Top, The Royal York Hotel as it stands out, even from the air. Below, Ben Bernie and his orchestra

"I hope you like it". To millions of radio listeners-in, that announcement, coming from Ben Bernie, "the young maestro", is a fulfilled promise of symphonic dance music of extraordinary quality. Though Ben Bernie cannot possibly have appeared in person before the many millions for whom he is the favorite of radio broadcasters, his name and the music for which it stands have become household words throughout the world, emblematic of the best in symphonic jazz orchestration. It is for that reason that Ben Bernie and his World-Famous Orchestra have been chosen above all others to open the Royal York Hotel in Toronto, an engagement of three weeks, at the highest salary ever paid by a hotel.

For the past seven years Ben Bernie and his orchestra have been featured at the Hotel Roosevelt in New York, one of the best and most widely known hostilities of the Metropolis. The Ben Bernie music made the Roosevelt Grill the favorite rendezvous of dance lovers, young and old. Ben Bernie and his Orchestra are also exclusive Brunswick recording artists and are featured by that company wherever phonograph records are played.

Ben Bernie's music is distinguished for the ingratiating rhythm of his orchestrations and the symphonic overtones applied to syncopation. It is pre-eminent among the "new jazz" orchestra for the quality of its music. Ben Bernie's orchestrations are arranged with the greatest of care and artistry and are played by an aggregation of artists each of whom is an outstanding master of his medium.

Unrivalled in its versatility, the Ben Bernie Orchestra offers, in addition to the familiar popular tune, symphonic jazz renditions of classical symphonies. The Ben Bernie arrangement of "Echebreasade" presents in syncopated form one of the most colorful of modern symphonies, striking a balance between the irresponsible gaiety of jazz and the austere solemnity of the classical, and appealing with equal force to lovers of the old and the new in music.
